RAPID FIRE GUNS WOMAN AMUCK FROM AMERICA

to Man Them for the Cuban Government.

RUMOR THAT UNCLE SAM HAD SHE QUIETS DOWN BEEN ASKED FOR HELP.

Havana, Aug. 23 .- Font Sterling, secretary of the treasury, late tonight cleared up in a statement to the Associated Press a misleading statement made at the palace tonight to the effect that the Cuban government had asked the United States for eight rapidfire guns manned by American artille-rymen to be used in the suppression of the insurrection.

Facts in the Case.

The facts are according to the secretary, that the government has ordered from an American arms manufacturing company four rapid-fire guns, and that these pieces will be manned by former members of the artillery branch of the American army now If these guns prove to be effective four or more additional guns will be ordered, and it is expected that experienced gunners can be procured in the United States to man them. The United States has not been asked to do anything in the premises.

The subject of American intervention is not much discussed here and is regarded as a remote possibility, there being general confidence that the government will be able to restore order in a short time.

Acting With Energy.

The killing of the insurrectionary leader, General Quentin Bandera, today in an engagement between rural guards and a band of his followers is regarded as dealing the insurrection a heavy blow. The government is acting with energy in sending rural guards and volunteers against the Santa Clara rebels and dispatching 130 more men defend Pinar del Rio against Pino The capture of San Juan de Martinez by Guerrera's band was not a great surprise, though it was not expected to occur so soon. The place was protected by a very small detachment of rural guards, while Guerrera's strength was much greater.

Suppressing the News.

The government has not made public the news of the capture of San Juan de to Martinez by insurgents. The editor of the Post, which paper published an extra containing this news, was summoned before Governor Nunez and cen-sured for exciting the public by pub-lishing sensational news unfavorable to the government. Governor Nunez declared that he would recommend to President Palma the establishment of a censorship. The newspapers of Havana do not believe that President Palma will approve of such a movement, however, as, notwithstanding a constant flood of rumors, the newspa-pers have printed only facts, and usualing information States senators and members of the su-preme court. Why? The answer is preme court. Why? The answer is 'Bossism.'

"It is time to speak out in meeting. The bossism of Reed Smoot is damnable. It is because he occupies a high ecclesiastical position that I want to get at him. There is no use attacking his inferiors. Before Reed Smoot came nto political power, the state was dominated by the financial oligarchy of Tom Kearns, and no man could get an office from dog-catcher up unless he bowed to that oligarchy.

Denounces Ecclesiastical Bossism.

"When that oligarchy failed, the Republicans turned to another and to a worse form of bossism. Of all the despotworse form of bossism. Of all the despotism on earth quasi-religious bossism is the worst. I have a respect for the religious belief of every man, woman and child in the world. I resent any attempt to interfere with a man's belief or with his right to preach his belief; but the man who goes out clad with supposedly religious authority to boss politics is deserving of the severest condemnation. "Democrats, get back to where you were a few years ago, when men like John T. Caine and his kind, who respected every man's rights, were the leaders of your party." "I say to you that if there is fusion in this state there will still be a Democratic ticket, even if we who are here have to put it in the field ourselves," he declared, and the crowd cheered the assertion

Mayor Conroy denounced the appoint ment of William Glasmann as postmaster of Ogden, saying that not five per cent of the people there favored it.

Why was he appointed?" he demanded.

Because he was a satellite of the machine. Reed Smoot was in his debt politically and profibilly it is to his credit that cally and probably it is to his credit that he paid the debt. But how about the people of Ogden who must suffer be-cause of that machine debt?" cause of that machine debt?"

Dr. Conroy exhorted Democratic parents to teach their children the principles of Democracy. He referred to the defeat or Bryan in 1896, and said that the insurance scandals, the packing house scandals and the railroad rebating scandals had disclosed the conspiracy of money which had defeated him.

One More Whack at Machine.

It was evident, however, that it was the Smoot machine which was the subject nearest Dr. Conroy's heart, for he reverted to it again before he sat down. "It is deplorable," he said, "to know that all over the United States there is an agitation against Utah. It is heart-stoken to know that convergely is besickening to know that contumely is being heaped upon us by people who do not understand us. We have here a cosmopolitan population; but the majority of our people belong to a religious sect which is being maligned by those who know nothing of actual conditions here.

"For this agitation this Republican boss is required."

"For this agitation this Republican boss is responsible. We had peace with the world before he rose to power. For the agitation, for the contumely upon Utah, he is to blame and he should be held responsible. Under Democratic rule in Utah we had peace, and when Democracy again gains the ascendancy the whitewinged dove of peace will again hover over us." Dr. Conroy's remarks were frequently applauded. At the conclusion of his speech the band played "Columbia, the Gem of

"Stand by your guns as Democrats," he said. "Don't fuse. I find some talk of fusing with the Republicans. The cry is fusing with the Republicans. The cry is going out that we must fuse to beat the American party. That is all balderdash. The Democratic party is going to win. There are rumblings of discontent all over the state against Republican machine rule, and the way to do up the Republican machine is to vote the Democratic ticket."

Mr. Roylance said people were becoming dissatisfied with machine rule because their young men who aspired to politcolunteer and a policeman were inured.

Moyle Attacks Machine.

James H. Moyle was the next speaker. He compared conditions under Democratic rule in Utah with conditions since the ublican machine gained control Republican machine gained control.

"The Democratic party won honor for Utah by sending to represent her in the halls of congress such men as Joseph L. Rawlins, Brigham H. Roberts and William H. King," he said. "The Democratic party brought statehood to Utah, it brought peace and tranquility.

"When the Republican party came into power it turned first to a money oligarchy and elected to the senate the richest man in the state, regardless of his fitness for that office. When it failed, it turned to the church. It elected a distinguished and an honorable man to the senate. He held a high ecclesiastical position."

"After depoyment "whisterers" and

"After denouncing "whisperers" and "gumshoers," who, he declared, were the mainstays of the Republican machine, Mr. Moyle continued:
"What has resulted from the election "What has resulted from the election of this distinguished and honorable man to the United States senate? We have become a distracted people. Utah has been made a hiss and a byword in the land. What else? There has been tampering with the judiciary, the one thing above all others that should be free from political interference or control.

"But there has resulted an even worse calamity than that. But for the follies and mistakes of the Republican leaders, such a party as the 'American' party never would have been organized. But for their mistakes the Democratic party would have been organized. But for their mistakes the Democratic party would have carried the last city election, and we would not be saddled with 'American' party misrule,"

Democracy Only Hope.

Mr. Moyle severely scored the Republicans for dragging the relief societies of the church into the last city election, and then said:

The election showed that we had far more votes than they had. Will they be honest now? Will they admit the force of their own argument made then and vote our ticket this fall to defeat the 'American' party?"

Mr. Moyle spoke briefly on national politics, and declared that Bryan, but for a conspiracy of the money power, would conspiracy of the money power, would have been elected in 1896. He said the skies were brightening in the east, and that there, was every prospect of Democratic success. Mr. Moyle was cheered

Mr. Harris painted an eloquent picture of the present prosperity of Utah and of the possibilities of the future. He declared, however, that the full measure of prosperity could never be obtained while the state was rent and torn by dissensions at home, and while its reputation was being injured abroad. He blamed these existing conditions upon the Remultican existing conditions upon the Republican party, and created great 'laughter by referring to 'my distinguished and honorable friend, Reed Smoot, the founder of the 'American' party."

Labor at a Disadvantage.

Mr. Harris declared that a Utah man who travels to the east is embarrassed when he comes in contact with other people. Easterners, he said, look the questions they do not ask. He said, however, that while in Minneapolls recently newspaper men in a group had asked him about conditions in Utah.

GREAT PLANS FOR FUTURE

PRESIDENT SAYS THAT IT WILL BE SECOND TO NONE.

One of the big steps in the foundation of what promises to be a large institution of learning for this and the surrounding states was taken yesterday when the corner-stone of the new administration building of Westminster college was laid with appropriate ceremonies. The building is not the first of those preposed by the Westminster college people, the Gunton memorial chapel erected some years ago antedating it. But the build-ing now begun is to be the first of the ollege buildings proper. The ceremonies attendant on the laying f the corner-stone were held at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon and were attended by over a hundred persons. Some of you Democrats may be accused of injecting church interference into politics by my doing so, and, if you are thus accused, the responsibility must be yours, not mine. I have been sitting here in the humble position of a listener, approving what has been said, and I had no wish to make a speech myself."

Mr. Roberts went on to declare that Republicanism, local or national, was all of a piece. He criticised President Roosevelt for writing a letter intended to in-The actual laying of the stone was preceded by a short program, chief of which was a resume of the work of the Westminster committee by Dr. McNeice. The speaker told of the various efforts to secure land and money for the erection of the building following the struggle for the past twenty-four years. He eulogized the late Colonel W. M. Ferry, to whose generosity the ownership of the velt for writing a letter intended to in-fluence the pending congressional elecwhose generosity the ownership of the present site is due, and Sheldon Jackson, whose gift made possible the erection of the building. Beveridge, he said, had declared that the present campaign foundation was laid yesterday, and he predicted that within another twelve predicted that within another twelve months three large college buildings would be seen on the site. The money for one of these—the woman's building—has been donated in part by Mrs. W. M. Beveridge had admitted that in years gone by the American people, in their rush for money, had lost sight of the methods by which it was gained, but were now turning from results to examine into methods. In other words, the acpublicans proposed to adopt the motto "Thou shalt not steal."

"Who brought about this condition?" demanded Mr Roberts. "For nearly fifty years the Republican party has been in control of this government, and, if this condition described by Senator Beveridge exists, the Republican party must be

After the stone was laid, prayer was offered by Rev. N. E. Clemenson of Logan, and Dr. George Stevenson, the president of the college, gave a short address defining the scope of the institution of which he has been the head since last November. Dr. Stevenson said that they hoped to make the college second to none "We need not cry 'Peace, peace.' when there is no peace. We might as well face conditions as they are. I was look-ing over an old scrapbook the other day and I came across a speech which I delivered in Provo in 1894, the first political speech, I think, which I ever delivered. In that speech I called attention to and tried to define the rights of individuals both in their relations to their church and their relations to the state. NOT TOOTING THEIR HORNS

Attorneys for the Alleged Dynamiters in Boise and the Reporters Are Mystified. (Special to The Herald.)

Boise, Ida., Aug. 23.—Clarence Darrow, E. F. Richardson and Fred Miller, attorneys for the men accused of the murder of Frank Stuenenberg, former governor of the state, are all here this evening. It has been impossible to secure any intimation of their purpose. Mr. Darrow states he is on his way to Spokane and is coming back here to attend the irrigation congress. The attorneys for the state have no intimation of the mission of the visitors, and Judge Smith has no information that an appearance is to be made at this time in his court. It was the expectation of the accused men a few days ago that another application would be made for bail, but it is the understanding that the plan has been abandoned.

Something appears to be doing, as there Protests Against Disgrace.

"I will not have my church disgraced. I will not tolerate the 'Fussy' Andersons and the like. No priesthood has the right to dominate the political acts of men in this great free republic of the west."

By this time the crowd was almost standing on its feet and shouting approval. Mr. Roberts closed with an eloquent plea for Democratic loyalty and unity. He protested against fusion and urged that Democrats march proudly under the Democratic banner.

Stand by your colors as Democrats!" he exclaimed. "Let us have no suggestion of fusion. Reaffirm the great principles promulgated by the reconvened convention of 1895. We may have been mistaken in a recital of fact then, due to the passion of the moment, but the principles we announced were everlasting true. Peace can only come to Utah through the success of the Democratic party."

Mr. Roberts concluded amid deafening cheers and applause, and was at once surrounded by a big throng of people eager to congratulate him. His speech closed the exercises.
